DETAILED ACTION

1. This Office Action is in response to the request for reconsideration filed March 16, 2009.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-11 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-22 of U.S. Patent No. 6,535,854 in view of Ciluffo (US Patent No. 6,119,088). Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of U.S. Patent No. 6,535,854 include limitations for a speech unit for generating user-network commands according to electric signals provided by a microphone to control a remotely controllable device connected to the speech unit and self-initialization of a speech unit connected to a remotely controllable device, providing for inputting the operator's voice (claims 1-22), controlling the input/output of electronic devices through recognition of the operator's voice inputted by voice input means (claims 1-17), connecting an unregistered electronic device that has been connected to the network and registering the voice recognition table provided from the newly added electronic device (claim 10-22). The claims of U.S. Patent No. 6,535,853 do not specifically claim a prerecorded first voice recognition table where an operator's voice is stored in advance. However, implementation of pre-stored user speech patterns for comparison with input speech so as to grant or deny a user access/control of a system was well known. Ciluffo teaches, at col. 3, lines 45-60 and col. 5, lines 57-67, the processor accesses memory to determine if the speech patterns of the received audio matches a stored pattern for a person authorized to control the device and it would have been obvious to implement the teachings of Ciluffo in the system of Buchner for the purpose of ensuring only authorized users have access/control to the system.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed March 16, 2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues the claims of Buchner do not require the "second electronic device" of claim 1 of the application, and Ciluffo does not teach or suggest the claimed "second electronic device." The Examiner cannot concur. Ciluffo's system is usable for more than one device or appliance (see col. 5, lines 16-21), thus providing support for a second device. Since Ciluffo specifically teaches the invention supports multiple devices added to the system and Buchner specifically claims methods of self-initialization of a speech unit connected to a remotely controllable device, the combination of Buchner and Ciluffo provide support for the claim limitations.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
